

WEB 120 Introduction to Internet Multimedia

Credit Hours	Lecture Hours	Lab Hours	Prerequisite or Corequisite
3	2	2	WEB 110 Recommended

CATALOG DESCRIPTION

The first of two courses covering the creation of Internet Multimedia. Topics include Internet multimedia file types, file type conversion, acquisition of digital audio/video, streaming audio/video and graphics animation plug-in programs and other related topics. Upon completion, students should be able to create Internet multimedia presentations utilizing a variety of methods and applications.

REQUIRED RESOURCES

Textbook(s)

Macromedia Flash Professional 8: Training from the Source
Green & Chilcott
Adobe Press
ISBN-13: 978-0321384034

Materials

Internet Access

Technology

none

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Familiarize students with the Macromedia Flash work environment
2. Familiarize students with vector graphic concepts
3. Familiarize students with animation concepts relating to internet based multimedia
4. Familiarize students with utilization of sound and video on the web via Flash
5. Understand the fundamentals of using ActionScript

COURSE DELIVERY METHODS

If this course is taught as an online, hybrid, or web enhanced course; the course will require access to the PCC Blackboard learning system via the Internet. Students are expected to login to the Blackboard course AT LEAST 3 times per week. Students are also expected to use the PCC Campus Cruiser web mail system to correspond with the instructor and check email at least once every 24 hours Monday – Friday.

COURSE SPECIFIC INFORMATION

Course Project

Complete syllabus with due dates, attendance policies, and other information is provided by the instructor for the course.

Last Updated July, 2007